FACADE MATERIALS

The facade materials for the “Dairas” project have been thoughtfully selected to reflect the principles of contemporary architecture, while also addressing functional requirements.

The podium level is wrapped in expanded aluminum mesh, serving both as a decorative element and providing natural ventilation.

The main residential block features fiber cement panels, distinguished by their strength, weather resistance, and fire-retardant properties. Complementing these are aluminum baguettes, which offer both a visual accent and solar shading. The carefully designed color gradient helps visually soften the building’s mass and introduces a sense of movement and architectural dynamism.

Additional cladding elements include aluminum composite panels, enhancing the project’s modern and sophisticated aesthetic.

LOCATION HISTORY

BIOGRAPI GIVES LIFE TO NEW STORIES THAT LIVE ON IN OUR MEMORIES.

Historical Perspective of "Daira" Inspired by culture, rooted in place.

The name of the "Daira" project is inspired by Niko Pirosmani's painting "Georgian Woman with a Tambourine," a tribute to the artist's own connection with Ortachala.

Pirosmani often visited the gardens of Ortachala, where local taverns and eateries became lively gathering spots - places where tables were set, wine was poured, and soulful feasts unfolded to the sound of the Duduk.

In the 1920s and 1930s, Ortachala's gardens became a vibrant hub for Georgia's literary elite - a place of creative debate and cultural exchange.

Though the Ortachala Island no longer exists, its romance lives on in memory. Today, this very place becomes home to the "Daira" project - a development whose identity is deeply intertwined with the spirit and stories of its location.
